Tackling anti-social behavior has been identified as a priority for Hampshire Constabulary.

We are very lucky in the rural Test Valley that such reports are generally low, however any form of anti-social behaviour has the potential to impact on the quality of life of local residents and therefore local officers will work with their communities to ensure such complaints are dealt with promptly.
Anti-social behaviour covers a wide range of unacceptable activity and I am keen that the rural community understands the type of behaviour that this includes!!

What is anti-social behavior?

Definition of anti-social behaviour:

“Anti-social behaviour is any aggressive, intimidating or destructive activity that damages or destroys another person's quality of life.” (Home Office)

“Anti-social behaviour includes a variety of behaviour covering a whole complex of selfish and unacceptable activity that can blight the lives of individuals and communities. Examples include nuisance neighbours, rowdy and nuisance behaviour, vandalism, litter and graffiti, yobbish behaviour and intimidating groups taking over public spaces.”

National categories of anti-social behaviour:

Hampshire Constabulary recognises those categories of anti-social behaviour as listed in the National Standard of Incident Recording:

- Abandoned vehicles (not stolen or causing an obstruction)
- Animal problems
- Vagrancy/Begging
- Hoax calls to emergency services
- Inappropriate use/sale/possession of fireworks
- Malicious communications
- Noise
- Littering/Drugs paraphernalia
- Nuisance neighbours
- Rowdy and inconsiderate behaviour
- Street drinking
- Trespass
- Vehicle nuisance/Inappropriate vehicle use

People of all ages become involved in anti-social behaviour and it certainly is not just young people. Anti-social behaviour has a negative impact on the quality of life of individuals, families and communities and also damages the environment, especially disadvantaged areas. Please contact your local beat officer if you are experiencing problems in your area or would like further advice.
